

Technical Consultant

To support our further growth, Threon is looking for a Technical Consultant

About Threon

We're Threon: a leading international consultancy firm that specializes in portfolio, program and project management services. Since 2001, our more than 100 experts provide consulting, professional training and software applications to organizations in all sectors.

We operate across Europe and have offices in Belgium, Luxembourg, Germany, the Netherlands, and Morocco. We owe our growth to refining our service offer to the rapidly changing market and to develop the talent of our team of experts. Our approach always departs from a down-to-earth mentality. We make complex problems comprehensible and deliver tangible solutions together with our customers.

Your role

We are looking for a technical consultant to enforce our consulting team in the implementation of projects. You will work in a cross functional/technical context, translate requirements and implement solutions. You will communicate directly with the client in cooperation with both functional and technical consultants and our Software Factory. You'll work on site with our colleagues or from our main office in Ghent. Your work will be varied ranging from projects to small interventions.

To provide our clients a platform for managing projects, as a Microsoft Certified Partner, we implement MS Project Server (PPM), Project Online (O365) and our own Best Practice Pack suite. In this context you will configure and customize the system, set up Reporting and interfaces with other systems.

Your profile

- You have a bachelor or master degree in IT & you have a real passion for IT.
- You have ideally between 2 and 5 years of work experience.
- You have strong cross functional-technical skills.
- You are result oriented.
- You develop fluently in a C# .NET environment and have advanced skills in SQL.
- Aside development, you're interested in varied work (technical configuration, report development, infrastructure).
- You have an interest in Project Management.
- Knowledge of SQL Server (Reporting Services) and Power BI is a big plus.
- Knowledge of SharePoint or Project Server is a big plus.
- Knowledge of a Microsoft or other PPM tool is a very big plus.
- You speak Dutch and English fluently, fluency of French is a plus.
- You can work both in team and independently, and are capable to learn autonomously.

- You are willing to work both in our office in Ghent and at customer sites across Belgium.

Offer

Threon permanently invests in developing the skills and competences required to successfully execute your function. There are growth opportunities, giving you the chance to further develop yourself in a consulting role.

We offer a dynamic and challenging environment where you can develop project management expertise from a business perspective as well as from an IT-perspective.

We also offer

- A competitive salary and result-oriented bonus
- A package of fringe benefits like company car, phone, group insurance, ...
- The opportunity to obtain Microsoft certifications
- The opportunity to develop knowledge on and skills in Project Management methodology and obtain PMI certification
- Regular inspiring team meetings, events, teambuilding and other events that stimulate knowledge sharing and harmony amongst colleagues

Interested?

Are you eager to join our young and dynamic team? Send your motivational CV to jobs@threon.com with reference 16004.